Hi PRAVEEN VELLIENGIRI,

You have failed the final evaluation and your project has been removed from GSoC 2017. You will not receive the final payment.

Your mentor(s) provided the following feedback for you:

We appreciate your interest in distributed component placement. We understand that you spent a significant amount of time studying the concepts and experimenting. However, despite you making a few attempts to improve, we were not able to make progress on your project. We asked you to send us brief daily updates and in their absence we were not able to understand where you were, what you were attempting to do, and explore ways we could help you complete your project. If you would like to continue working on this project we are still willing to work with you on this project after GSoC.

This email was sent to praveenvelliengiri@gmail.com.

You are receiving this email because of your participation in Google Summer of Code 2017.
